TOKIO, April 15.—Four that passage of Japanese exclusion bill by the United States will affect "that spirit of friendship and esteem in which we have been happy to regard you" was expressed today by Baron Mitsukoshi, Japanese foreign minister, in an interview with American press representatives. "It cannot do more," he added, "but with a nation the character of yours the regard of others we believe is a consideration of first importance."

LONDON, April 15.—The British press today saw in the adoption of the Japanese exclusion amendment to the Immigration bill by Congress in Washington, "grave danger to peace in the Pacific."

LONDON, April 15.—Since signing of the Washington limitation of armaments treaty Great Britain has started construction on one submarine while Japan has begun work on six light cruisers, 17 destroyers and 13 submarines, Parliamentary Secretary Ammon said during the session of the House of Commons today.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Congress has served notice on the Administration of its determination to exclude Japanese from the United States in such terms that it is considered unlikely here that President Coolidge will veto the bill containing the exclusion provisions. "The Senate's action in the putting the drastic House exclusion provision into the Senate bill without even the formality of a record vote, coming on top of the House action of passing its bill by a vote of more than four to one, was expected to deter the President from disapproving the measure."

Secretary of State Hughes will confer with the President on his return from New York today but despite Hughes' protest to the Senate exclusion clause there were no authoritative indications that he would counsel a veto. The overwhelming support obtained by the proponents of Japanese exclusion indicates sufficient strength to pass the bill over any veto and officials here believe that Hughes and the President will risk opening a breach between themselves and Congress over the matter. The Senate was finally to dispose of the Immigration bill today. With the Japanese question decided the fight will center around the quota bill. Republicans are committed to a one per cent quota, based on the census of 1910. Democrats seek to have it on the 1920 census as the House bill provides. As soon as the bill is passed it will go to the President. The House and Senate bills will be brought out, after which it will be put in the hands of the President.

Grange Opens Fight Against Bonus in State

HARRISBURG, April 15.—Fate of Pennsylvania's $35,000,000 bonus for ex-servicemen of the State today rests with the courts.

Injunction proceedings entered in Dauphin county court today by A. D. Miller, Susquehanna, counsel for the Pennsylvania State Grange, would restrain Commonwealth Secretary Clyde L. King from certifying the bonus amendment so it can be printed on the ballots for referendum at the November election. If the Dauphin court and later the State Supreme Court uphold Miller's injunction, the bonus amendment—approved by the past two sessions of the Legislature—will be dead for at least four years. If it does not appear on the ballot the voters of the Commonwealth can not vote on it and the issue dies automatically. To be referred to the people then it would be necessary for the measure to go through two more legislatures.

All factions concerned in the injunction have stipulated their intention of carrying it to the supreme court no matter what decision is given in the county court, so the action in the county court is but preliminary to the final test. State officials here it will come before the supreme court by May 25, the court's last sitting before the summer recess.

The dispute over the bonus is due to a misinterpretation of the text of the amendment, according to Attorney General George W. Woodruff. The amendment to the constitution fixing the road bond indebtedness at $100,000,000 is quoted in the bonus amendment as "$50,000,000"—the way the amended constitution read in 1921 when the bonus bill was originally drawn up.

The incorrect quotation of the road amendment has therefore linked the bonus with the $100,000 highway bond.

Several Places Visited During Morning in Company With President Haines.

CLUB ANXIOUS TO HELP

The parking sites committee of the Young Men's Automobile Club met Monday evening at a meeting in the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A., together with A. M. Haines, president, this morning toured the city and located a number of vacant spaces that will be recommended to Council as parking places for automobiles. In earnest about helping to solve the traffic and parking problems, which are now troubling the council, the automobile club has taken upon itself the task of relieving parking congestion.

On the committee are G. W. Campbell, John P. Trader, Charles Weiss, J. C. Munson and Mr. Haines. Approximately eight lots suitable for parking purposes were visited and notes of improvements necessary to permit parking were made. Between now and Monday evening, when City Council will meet again, the sites committee will once more get together and place the data into a concise form that may be presented to the council.

Recommendations as to what may and should be done to put these grounds into shape for parking in regard to lights and other facilities will be made. Owners of such property will be visited by the automobile club committee and their permission for use of the ground secured. Every site that is available and suitable will be recommended.

COLONEL FOOLS EM; PLANS TO BE ABOUT SOON

"Not yet, though!"
Colonel J. J. Barnhart went word to friends in Connellsville today that he is feeling fine; has no thought of "going west."

The colonel was taken very ill Monday night and it was believed he had died. A stroke, it developed, it was said, that it was acute indigestion. He was in a state of unconsciousness for a time.

Comrade W. H. Shaw visited the old cavalryman Tuesday afternoon and found him able to talk.

After a visit to the home today, Isaac Cropper, a son-in-law, said the colonel asked him to bring the news that he is "feeling fine." He sat up in bed this morning and ate breakfast. He will be out in a few days if nothing else develops. Mr. Cropper said.

Mrs. Barnhart, who had been in bed because of illness, was able to be out.

High School Has 351 Per Cent Gain
In 15-Year Period

In a talk before the Connellsville Kiwanis Club at noon today, Bela B. Smith, superintendent of the city schools, gave some statements supplemental to the talk on "School Finance" of a few weeks ago by Attorney George May, chairman of the finance committee of the School Board.

In direct comparison with school conditions today he brought out facts relative to the situation in 1909, the time when the borough of New Haven and Connellsville were consolidated. Since then figures taken from the records show the enrollment in Connellsville has increased 50 per cent and in the High School 351 per cent.

Speaking on the "Growth and Development of Education" Mr. Smith took up the matter in three divisions: the physical plant or housing facilities; the number and distribution of pupils; the teachers and courses of study.

He outlined the available buildings, then drew attention to the fact that at the time mentioned, the school house was the target of very criticism for the erection of a building "in the woods" which never would be filled to capacity. He had reference to the South Side Building.

"At that time eight of the 12 rooms were used," he said. "Now all 12 are occupied and the seventh and eighth grades have been moved away to make room for the lower ones."

"Since then," he continued, "we have built the annex to the present Cameron School and erected the Crawford and High School buildings. In 1909 we had school houses and that is all we can say. Fifteen years ago, when I first came here, the then superintendent of schools apologized for the scientific apparatus."

Mr. Smith said three students could work under the microscope at one time. There was no provision for manual training, physical education, domestic science or art or any medical inspection, he said.

In comparison he brought out the advantages offered at this time, pointing to the modern apparatus of study, the up-to-date buildings and other improvements that have kept Connellsville to the front in school progress in the past 15 years.

"I can promise you no more," Mr. Smith said. "I say this because a man asked me not long ago, 'What is the future of the past and watching it year by year, I would say the growth has not reached its peak by any means.'"

In 1909 the total enrollment in Connellsville was 2,325. In the last report on this item, made about a month ago, the enrollment was 3,401. In 1909 the total High School enrollment was 238. Now it is 841.

He compared the costs of education in the lower and upper grades and the High School, showing how the expense increases as the student advances. The senior class in 1909 was 16. In the class now there are approximately 173.

"The most startling revelation of all," Mr. Smith said, was the comparison of the valuation of the city given as a basis for taxation purposes by the School Board. In 1909, he declared, it totaled $4,732,150. Last year, the final one at which the county valuation was used by the school district, it totaled $5,125,000 or approximately an increase of $400,000 in 15 years.

Destroyers Hurried to Aid of Missing Commander Of Round World Fliers

Major Martin Forced to Descend on Rocky Shore After Machine Trouble.

CAUSE IS NOT KNOWN

"CHIGNIK, Alaska, April 15.—Major Fred L. Martin, commander of the United States Army air fleet attempting a flight around the world, who was forced down in the vicinity of Chignik Bay, Alaska, was sought by two United States destroyers today but so far no word has been received as to his fate.

The rocky shore lined toward which Major Martin was seen heading by his three companions late yesterday is miles from any communication station and until destroyers reach the spot and find the plane it will be impossible to tell whether he landed safely.

Lieutenant Smith, who assumed command of the three remaining planes when Major Martin left the fleet, brought his command here and at once started re-fueling with a plan of getting out today to aid in the search for the missing pilot. Destroyers Hull and Cery were ordered to proceed to where Major Martin was last seen.

As the Seattle, the plane piloted by the flight commander, neared toward the rocky shore, Major Martin had no time to inform his companions what was to his plane had forced him out of the formation. When the three remaining planes arrived here Lieutenant Smith said he expected his commander to follow in short time. He had been forced down during previous "legs" of the flight from California but had always managed to follow shortly after the other fliers. When several hours had passed and the Seattle did not appear the destroyers were ordered out.

Smith and his companions expected to get away early today in case the destroyers had not reached the vicinity by forenoon.

The team is composed of W. P. Francis, captain, Leo Crumey, Ward H. Ringler, John H. Moore, W. H. Brown, John O. Haynes, W. H. Anderson, Lawrence Swift, R. J. St. Clair, Charles Woods, W. E. Chorpont, J. L. Williams, J. L. Trump, Harvey Stull, S. R. Cox, L. K. Fisher, Harry Lovell, C. F. Hiral, James McCarthy and J. W. Pringle.

Others from Connellsville were W. L. Slocum, W. H. Shawman, Harry Ford, Harry Dawson, T. S. Barker, Mr. Huey and Albert Shearer.

The team orchestra was greatly appreciated and applauded. It was composed of Randolph, piano; Helen, mandolin; Teresa, violin, and Moore, cornet.

This team has been busy conferring degrees in the other camps in most nearby towns and is considered one of the best in the State. All plans are made to put on the work in connection before the grand lodge next October at Altoona.

"Calvin Coolidge"
Will Be Platform
Of the President

By Lawrence Martin
Copyright 1924 by U. P.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The real "keynote" of the Republican campaign has now been sounded.

With a great deal of skill Secretary of State Hughes, the third and by far the most successful, from an administration standpoint, of the keynotes thus far tried out, announced last night in his speech to New York Republicans that the keynote was—Calvin Coolidge.

Weeks ago it was predicted in The Courier that the campaign would be centered around Mr. Coolidge. Senator Pepper made an offer in his recent keynote effort to say what Hughes said last night but Hughes put it a great deal more effectively.

Hughes carefully built up a case for the administration. His speech was like the report of a President to Congress—a report on the state of the Union with particular emphasis on the works of the administration in its executive departments.

The studious avoidance to any reference to the record of Congress—except the observation that if it had not been for obstructionists the tax reduction program would have gone through before this—only made Hughes' keynote the more emphatic.

It is Coolidge on whom the country must depend he said in effect, for carrying out the program which Harding began. It is the character of Coolidge which is offered to the Nation as an earnest of leadership and of constructive achievement.

Hughes' treatment of the current scandal also skillfully emphasized the Coolidge note. The President, Hughes pointed out, was prosecuting without favor or fear but with even-handed justice, headlines of clamor but determined on purity of government.

The keynote summed it all up in one of his closing paragraphs when he said Mr. Coolidge was his own platform; that no other was needed.

City Hall Plot Finds Favor
Among Members of Council
as Site.

BOND ISSUE NECESSARY

Need Not Submit Matter to Vote of People, However, Belief of Councilman C. M. Stone, Head of Finance Department; Consider It Again 25th.

Approval of a central fire station on the East Side was voted at the adjourned meeting of City Council Tuesday night, but whether the site should be at City Hall or some other place or whether it should be a new building or a remodeling of the present city structure was not definitely determined.

Opinion leaned toward the City Hall site and a new building. After Mayor Charles C. Mitchell had indicated that there be some expression of Council's attitude, following the presentation Monday night of a petition for a central station, Councilman B. L. Berg expressed himself in opposition to investment of a large sum in a site elsewhere if there is room on the public plot. Councilman James Wardley favored the public ground, as did Councilman C. M. Stone who, however, declared for a modern fire house, large enough for the needs of the city. Mr. Stone said such a building could be erected by a bond issue approved by Council without submitting it to a vote of the people.

Mayor Mitchell said he was not much concerned about the site as about a central station somewhere on the East Side. Business men have indicated there should be a change of the location of the fire apparatus, he said, and he was in favor of some definite action.

Councilman J. A. Cypher was not present during the discussion, having been called out.

After the meeting it was indicated that Architect Howard Frank would be asked to prepare plans for a modern building.

CONTRACTS LET FOR TWO STREETS,
GARBAGE FURNACE

Contracts for the paving of Snyder and Jefferson streets were awarded Tuesday night by Council to I. Alfredo DePolo, the low bidder. In both streets the wearing surface will be of brick on a stone base. The bid for Snyder street, as noted in The Courier Tuesday, was $14,776.50; for Jefferson street, $14,140.35.

The contract for the garbage incinerator was awarded to the Universal Destructor Company of Pittsburgh for $21,500, subject to the sale of the $50,000 bond issue and the transfer of the hotel property, on which the plant is located, to the city.

The proposed plant in one of two units, with a capacity of 30 tons of mixed garbage a day. It operates without cost, by use of a blower, and consumes all kinds of refuse. One unit can operate it, Council was told.

The awarding of the contracts for radium at Apple and Arch and Robbins and Snyder streets was held over.

Coolidge Will Not Cater to Progressives

By Lawrence Martin
Copyright 1924 by U. P.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—In selecting his running mate and writing the platform of his party this year President Coolidge will refuse uncompromisingly to try to please the La Follette radicals or any other group outside the regular conservative Republicans.

The President is understood here to have very definite ideas about both the man who will occupy the second place on the ticket and the platform on which he is to run.

The platform undoubtedly will be drafted at the White House with the President and Secretary of State Hughes taking a leading part in writing it.

This subject has already received general consideration so that it is well understood that Mr. Coolidge wants the platform to do these things:

1.—Express the party's purpose to punish all wrong-doers in official places. This will be done without in any way cringing under criticism or accepting all the blame for conditions revealed by the scandal investigation.

2.—Pledge the party to uphold majority rule in the conduct of the government as distinguished from rule by coalition or blocs. In other words, the platform will constitute an attempt to rally voters around the party's standard and restore the broken down party system.

3.—Point with pride to Republican achievements and promise a constructive program of legislation and government economy, providing the country will give the party a working majority in Congress.

The President wants a running mate who is a thoroughly staunch party man who has been steadfastly true to the regular wing of the party and who will not, if elected, be likely to "play with" the various blocs and groups of the Senate.

Woman Clad in Burlap Are Haled Into Court

Overseasly clad in ragged burlap which was fastened to their bodies by hay wire, two elderly spinsters, well educated and reputed wealthy, were arraigned in police court at Clatskanie, Ore., charged with cruelty to animals.

They were Lillian and Mary Ann Radmore, whom authorities lured away from their valuable 200-acre farm in Roney township, after having had to fire their guns into the air a score of times to frighten away the "evil spirits" the spinsters vowed existed in the neighborhood.

The cruelty charges were based upon evidence that many sheep, hogs and cattle on the farm had died of starvation.

The sisters were sent to jail for a week to be examined for insanity.

Where Do You Want Your Car to Perform?
On Paper or on the Road?

PERFORMANCE is now the popular theme in automobile advertising—particularly among the makers of moderately priced sixes.

Over-bold claims and counter claims are being hurled at the public to establish some sort of performance supremacy.

Manufacturers whose engineering staffs have not yet developed a compact, powerful, efficient motor, dwell on the bigness of their power plants.

To impress the layman they print statistics; and the engineer who knows the tendencies of modern motor design, smiles.

Please forget the statistics—many a perpetual-motion machine performs beautifully on paper.

NEW FOUR DOOR SEDAN $1395

Please remember this unarguable fact: There is only one place to prove automobile performance, and that is on the highways and up the hills!

If a car takes the hardest, stiffest hill with masterful ease; if it sweeps along at high speeds with Pullman car smoothness; if it can literally leap from a crawl to twenty-five miles an hour, statistics and over-bold claims are unnecessary.

We make the simple statement that, in each and every phase of performance, the Cleveland Star has no equal in its class!

Will you come in and let us convince you? We promise to do it on the road not with a pad and pencil.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"RICH MEN'S WIVES," featuring Oliver Windsor, House Peters, Gaston Glass, Rosemary Theby and Myrtle Stedman is on view today and tomorrow at the Paramount. "Rich Men's Wives" was produced by Gansler, who made "Kismet" for the screen, and it is a brilliant piece of work. By the employment of a real horse show, many fine motor cars and groups of people who actually look like society men and women, he has given the picture superb atmosphere. The settings are rich, but not overdone, and the photography all through is sharp and beautifully done. "Rich Men's Wives" deserves to be placed among the successes of the season, for it is a drama that will live in the minds of audiences for a long time to come. It brings forth sharply the query of whether rich men's wives are to be pitied, scorned or envied. We formed our own conclusion after seeing the picture, but will not try to influence your opinion by revealing it. You are entitled to make your own decision. However, it is not amiss to say that women and girls who gaze longingly at pictures of society spouses longing on the sands at Palm Beach or all dressed up at the theatre will get a brand new viewpoint. The picture should not be overlooked by anyone who appreciates a good hour's entertainment, especially the members of the fair sex.

Friday and Saturday Franklin Paramount will be seen in "A Two Fisted Tenderfoot."

The Soisson

"THE DAY OF FAITH"—Featuring Eleanor Boardman, Ford Sterling, Ray Griffith and Tyrone Powers, provides entertainment today at the Soisson.

The story is one that attracted great attention and aroused much discussion when it was published serially in Collier's Weekly, and it had a big sale when published in book form. Its influence was so great that the devoted readers of the magazine, who have read it, proclaimed a "day of faith" throughout the state. It has been adapted to the screen by June Mathis, editorial director for Twentieth Century Fox, which is now producing it, and for "The Four Horsemen" and "Blood and Sand."

The story concerns people who are very human in their character and are able to see the average person in their beliefs, actions and emotions. Its appeal for the public is based upon this.

While overlooking nothing in the story that would add to the entertainment of picture-goers, it appeals to the intelligence as strongly as it does to the emotions. It is a picture with a spiritual content and significance, comparable to "The Miracle Man."

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "The Tie That Binds" will be shown.

The Orpheum

"THE ETERNAL CITY," the leading attraction today at the Orpheum is one of the best productions shown at this theatre in months. The picture was filmed in Italy, and has much of the Big Hall Calma story called for action centering about the personage of Mussolini, the premier posed with Mr. Fitzmaurice for the camera. The cast consists of Barbara La Marr, Bert Lytell, Eleanor Boardman, Richard Bennett and Montague Love. Donna Roma, the heroine, who is played by Miss La Marr, had planned an elaborate dinner and had invited two scores of the social leaders of the city. The day of the dinner arrived, and Donna Roma was in a state of excitement. She assured herself a dozen times that nothing had been overlooked to make

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "pick up" the spirits. Use and see.

The affair is a startling success. Through one of the most remarkable dramatic incidents for some time, the youth she had loved and given up as lost was responsible. He was the instrument by which her name became an object of ridicule—of shame. In the morning she had been one of the most popular members of her set. At dusk, men and women were mentioning her name in whispers. Donna Roma's reputation had been shattered. Thursday, Friday and Saturday "The Bad Man" will be shown.

The Tie That Binds

—With—

Barbara Bedford—Raymond Hutton

Hear These Hits of WHITEMAN'S On Victor Records

Limehouse Blues - - - - Fox Trot—19264

A singular fox trot from "Andre Charlots Revue of 1924," with the polygot flavor of London Limehouse in it. Then a familiar jazz tune, "Limehouse Blues" is quite original in style and has plenty of Whiteman effects.

Why Did I Kiss That Girl - - - Fox Trot—19267

Probably kissed her because he liked her—the same reason you will buy and dance this fox trot, with its vocal chorus and good-natured giddiness. It introduces a few old-time tunes, including a strain of the nigh-forgotten "Racquet Gallop." It's good for the glooms.

Home in Pasadena - - - - Fox Trot—19278

A Whiteman fox trot of almost unexampled richness and sonority; it is like a great gift-basket of many-colored and many-flavored fruits. It has powerful bell-tones here and there, booming through fine combinations of string and reed instruments.

Don't Mind the Rain - - - - Fox Trot—19273

A Whiteman fox trot like a piece of rich brocade; mellow chords, trumpets, Chinese Drums. A perfect dance for the contemporary fox trot. And that is the final test, for dancers, musicians or the rest of us. A dance may have lyric beauty, and be played with fine art, but it must dance or it's worthless.

COAL AND COKE SECOND EXPORT GROUP OF U. S.

Were Seventh in Value in Figures of the Year 1932, Statistics Show.

CANADA TAKES MOST

Coal and coke have again come to the front among exports after the decrease caused by the strike of 1932. Seventh in value in 1932, coal and coke, have forged upward to second place with a value of $166,000,000, or 4.1 per cent of the country's total exports. Canada taking by far the greatest proportion, followed by France, Cuba, Italy, Netherlands and Brazil in the order named.

Owned by sheer weight alone this commodity far outweighs every other export, and ranks second in first place in 1933 with its 25 million tons. The increase in value over 1932 was 74 per cent and in quantity 73 per cent. According to an interesting and valuable survey of "Our World Trade in 1933" just issued by the foreign commerce department of the United States, exports of coal and coke were exceeded by 40 per cent.

Coincidentally with the increase in exports of coal and coke came a decrease in imports, the value declining from 29 million dollars in 1932 to less than half in 1933—13 million dollars, or 56 per cent; in rank falling from 24th to 49th place. The decline in quantity was from 11,000,000 to less than 5,000,000 tons, or 53 per cent. Nevertheless the 1933 imports were 38 per cent greater than average amount imported prior to the war.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the top nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Congdon Also Believed of Headaches, Constipation, Indigestion, Dizzy Spells and Rheumatism.

Loud in Praise of "DRECO", Famous "Plant" and Herb Remedy.

No one is happier than Mrs. Mary Congdon, R. D. No. 1, Vestal, N. Y., near Binghamton, N. Y., since she began taking Dreco with such remarkable results. To this great remedy, made from the pure unadulterated juices of 12 different herbs, plants, barks and leaves she gives all credit for her recovery.

She says: "Dreco has done more for me than anyone can imagine. I was in a bad run-down condition. My shoulder was sore and I could only sleep on one side. The food I ate caused me a great deal of suffering—indigestion, heartburn, gastritis and constipation almost drove me wild.

"Dreco not only relieved the above but also fixed me up in many other ways. I'm never bothered with headaches or dizzy spells now and I eat and sleep like I did many years ago. My bowels are easy and regular and I feel better in every way.

"Dreco is certainly one grand medicine and I'm only too glad to recommend it. I'm getting some for my husband to try now and I know he'll be benefited just as I was."

Dreco is for sale at all drug stores and is being specially introduced here by Connellsville Drug Co., and in Scotland by Hoffman's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

Sues Coal Company For Loss of Appetite

Alleging that sulphur smoke from a burning sludge dump at the Clarkston Coal Company's mine near St. Clairsville, Ohio, ruined her farm, its buildings, the health of herself and her children, and caused them much suffering, Mrs. Mary Vitale has filed suit for $27,175 damages from the company.

She asks $7,500 for loss of appetite by the family due to odor from the burning sludge pile, $10,000 for withholding of plant life on the farm, $7,500 for damage to her appearance and to the health and minor sums for destruction of roofs, wire fences and nails due to acid fumes.

Tennis Courts Here Will Be Used For Elimination Contests of County Meet

Association Grants Fayette Inter-Scholastic Athletic Body Permission.

PLAY MATCHES ON MAY 3

The Connellsville Tennis Association has granted the use of the courts on the South Side to the Fayette County Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association for Saturday, May 3. Work to get the grounds in condition by that time will be speeded up.

The county athletic association has included tennis in its competitive program this year and eight schools have entered. It is understood. According to information here the eliminations are to be played on the South Side grounds and the finals in Uniontown.

The Connellsville High School will be included in the tournaments. Just who will participate is a little indefinite as this is the first season the school has ever had such a team. It is likely, however, that three of them will be "Chick" Evans, "Doc" Thompson and "Eddie" Goldsmith. These boys rate well in junior circles. Permission to use the courts was granted by the executive committee of the association today when various members were interviewed. The association feels it should do all it can to encourage tennis and believes it will grow considerably in popularity if the schools encourage it.

Tennis in Connellsville has already become a far more prominent sport than it was five years ago. There are approximately 25 or 40 enrolled in the tennis association and new applications are received each season. There are several to be acted on this year.

POPLAR GROVE WILL HAVE KLAIRDALES IN ACTION THIS YEAR

The Poplar Grove Klairdales had a meeting at Boat's store at Poplar Grove last evening and organized for the coming season. The opening game will fall on Saturday, May 10, with Goldmore at the Klairdale grounds.

Teams wishing to book games write Bennie Beal, Connellsville, Pa., Box 138. William Phuntak was named umpire for the Klairdale team.

The line-up this year will include C. Deanna, E. Miller, catcher; Opperman, second base; Milford, right field;

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS; PIRATES LOSE TO REDS

Pittsburgh Club Defeated in Ninth by Roush's Sacrifice Fly; Score 6-5.

WRIGHT MAKES ERRORS

Major league baseball season opened yesterday with record crowds in nearly every city where games were played. Thirty-five thousand persons in Cincinnati saw the Reds defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates in a fine opening game. The score was 6-5, Roush's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning deciding the game.

Although Morrison started the game he was relieved by Meadows and later is credited with the defeat. The first error of the game was by Wright, the Pirates' new shortstop, who made a wild throw after breaking down a hot liner off the bat of Roush. It was a costly one too, it proved.

Donohue, who started on the mound for the Reds, was recalled before Morrison was lifted. Sheehan replaced him.

Such popularity must be deserved

BIG HITS don't just happen. Popularity doesn't come ready-made. In pictures, plays or products, success must be built on something REAL.

Thus Chesterfield's swift rise to popularity was no accident. Smokers were ready for a better cigarette and in Chesterfield they found it. Taste convinced them. That's why men are turning by thousands to Chesterfield.

Economies

In order to cut the high costs of new telephone equipment we have introduced many labor-saving devices. In every department of our business there are new machines, new practices, improved methods—all introduced to keep telephone rates down.

Were it not for the improvements in the telephone art in the past few years we would have been forced to come to you—the people of Pennsylvania—for increased rates a year or two ago.

We have now reached the point where further economies will impair the service itself—a thing which you would not sanction, and which we could not allow.

When we reach this point—where every possible economy has been introduced in our business, and in spite of this our revenues are inadequate to meet the needs of a sound business, there is only one thing left for us—we must come to you and state the facts.

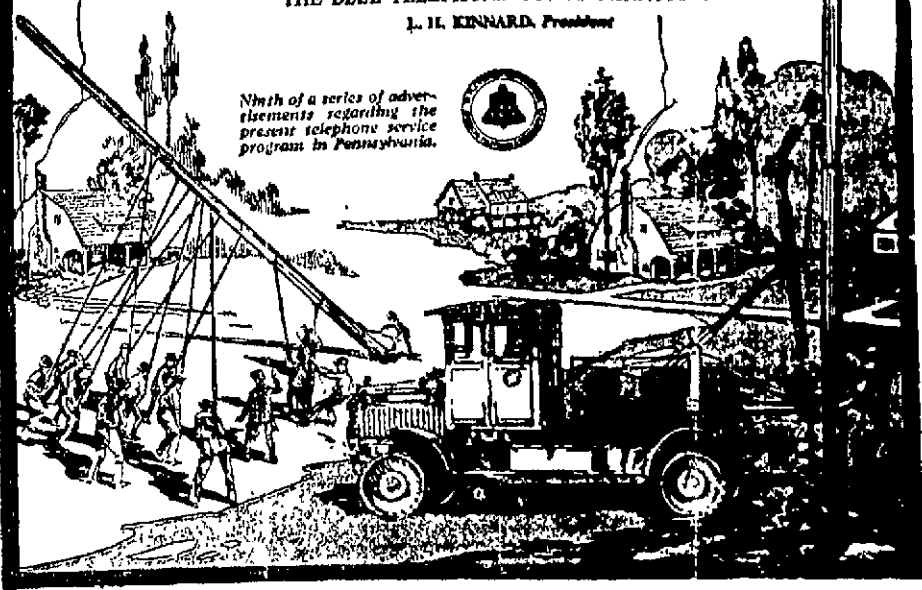

For you have the same interest in the service that we have.

A strong, well-conducted, efficient telephone system is an asset to the community. We ask only for rates which will enable this company to continue as an asset to the business and social welfare of the State.

18 YEARS SUFFERING GONE SAYS C. SHADE

Leicester Man Was Weak and Almost a Nervous Wreck Following Typhoid Fever—Until He Took Tanlac.

"Getting back my health and strength after suffering for eighteen years and giving up nearly all hope of getting well is certainly something to be thankful for and I just can't praise Tanlac enough." Is the striking statement made, recently, by Charles W. Shade, 115 South Duke St., Lancaster, Pa.

"Eighteen years ago I had a spell of typhoid fever and since then, that is until I took Tanlac, I had been a nervous wreck. And, besides, my stomach was in such a fix that I suffered great pain for hours after everything I would eat. I couldn't sleep because of my pain and nervousness and kept getting worse until I didn't know what to do.

"Tanalac has fixed me so I eat usually everything, I sleep fine, have gained ten pounds and am enjoying the best of health. Tanlac is even better than they say it is."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Tom Sweeney Is Elected Captain Dunbar Township Floor Team for Next Term

Thomas J. Sweeney, better known as "Slick," the midge of the Dunbar Township High School basketball team of 1933-34, who holds from Leicester, was elected captain of the 1934-35 basketball team at a banquet last evening at Frick Hall at Leicester. He succeeds Leo "Percy" Bradley, who is lost by graduation. Miss Pearl Patterson, last season's center, was elected captain of the girls' team for the next season, succeeding Miss Katy Stannis who graduates.

Awards for the letter-men and letter-girls were not made but will be on the last day the seniors assemble in a class, when awards in the literary contests will also be made. Those entitled to awards are Sweeney, Boyd, Glass, Colbert, H. Bradley, L. Bradley, Arnold and Rusinko, while the girls who will receive awards are Stannis, Patterson, Monjosky, Valentina, Cassel and Siefert. Other players who attended were Misses Helen Rolley, Henrietta Downing and Agnes Cassidy. W. H. Tietz, principal of the high school, acted in the role of toastmaster. Superintendent R. K. Smith made a short address, during which he recalled "The Pioneer Days of the Dunbar Township High School." Mr. Smith explained to the guests why he had been abandoned at the high school, and impressed upon the athletes to "live clean, mentally and physically." Rev. D. E. Miron gave a short address. Coach J. H. Henderson spoke on "The History of Basketball." Mr. Henderson's closing sentence was "to make basketball as great a success as baseball, physical education must be introduced in the grade schools to some extent."

Miss Sarah Seal, coach of the girls' basketball squad, made a short talk. The following members of the girls' team were called upon: Katy Stannis, Pearl Patterson, Marie Siefert, Edith Valentina, Elizabeth Monjosky, Wilma Cassel and Henrietta Downing.

Captain-elect Sweeney was the boys' team speaker. His closing words were: "Long may we live, happy may we be, as long as we're playing for old D. T." Bradley, the captain of 1933-34, made his debut as a speaker. Donald Sherbondy, who was elected to the managerial position, spoke briefly. "Dick" Boyd, "Chicken" Colbert, "Mike" Glass, "Lanky" Arnold, "Bolt" Bradley and Track Coach Zuercher each gave short talks, as did John H. Whorle, graduate of 1933.

The members of the team who are lost by graduation are Boyd, Colbert, Arnold and Bradley of the boys' team, and Stannis, Cassel and Downing of the girls' team.

The dinner was served by the women of the Presbyterian Church at Leicester. The school colors, red and black, were used in decoration, with American Beauty roses.

Efforts by Dunbar Township High School to get the Dunbar Township High School to compete in a "dual field and track meet" with them, was revealed by Mr. Tietz. The school's refusal was immediately rushed upon receipt of the news.

DEPARTMENT FOR BOYS AT SCOTSDALE "Y" VERY POPULAR

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 16.—Following the improvement made in the boys' room of the Y. M. C. A., and the addition made to the equipment, the popularity of the department has been increasing among the boys of Scottdale. In the past six months the membership of the boys' department has grown from 57 to 132. It has become necessary to alter different periods during which the classes could use the game room, as the rooms could not accommodate all at one time.

The game room and gymnasium are open to the members at stated periods. Tournaments are held in both gym and game rooms. Bowling leagues are organized for the boys. Hikes and outdoor sports are planned. During the Christmas vacation period, an interesting hike was made to the Standard mine at Mount Pleasant, where the boys were permitted to descend into the mine and explore, under competent guidance. An athletic hike has been planned for Good Friday. A marble tournament will be held Saturday afternoon, April 19, in the lot beside the Y. M. C. A.

The boy activities often include boys of the community who are not affiliated with the association, as well as the members. The H-Y Club, which meets every Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall, was organized for work among High School boys, whether members of the Y. M. C. A. or not. The club has been hearing some splendid educational addresses and are taking part in some vital discussions concerning their futures.

The Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. has no more than three members among its number. The boys meet in the Y. M. C. A. rooms and have the use of the gymnasium after each meeting. This is to promote boy welfare through the Scout movement, which movement has hearty cooperation in the Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the country.

DAN ROONEY SIGNS WITH INDEPENDENT TEAM AT SCOTSDALE

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 15.—Dan Rooney, Duquesne University man, a catcher, has signed with the Scottdale semi-professional baseball team. Last year Rooney caught with Scottdale and injured his ankle attempting to catch a foul ball. Several months later he played with the Pittsburgh Board of Trade as an outfielder and finished the season with the Uniontown Blues. He is an all-around athlete and will enter Notre Dame as a football candidate next fall. Rooney writes that he is in mid-season form having suffered no ill effects from his injury and that his batting eye is better than last year.

The team has scheduled a series of games with Bellevue. The opening game with this team will be July 6. A series with the Morgantown Collegians has also been scheduled to begin on June 11.

"Seventeen," she answered, studying the bill with great interest. "You were a mite of a child, not more than thirteen by the best of you."

"I ain't very hefty," she admitted. "We was Ohio folks. Now they're all dead. With I was with them."

"That's no way to talk," said Dinah. "Troubles are all ended. Tell us how you managed to get away from them."

Her lips trembled, but this time she fought down the hysteria and managed to explain:

"They were so sure of me, I was crazy from it all. They got to duncing. They began hurting the poor, dead bodies. Oh, but that was awful!"

"She ceased speaking and bit her lips. Again conquering her weakness, she went on:

"It was while they were busy that I started to walk away. I was hoping they'd kill me quick. Before I knew it I was at the turn to the road. Beyond that the light didn't shine. I began running. I guess you know the rest."

"I couldn't run very fast in those," she thrust forward a foot. "Seems as if they didn't want to catch me at first. They was hooting and laughing as they come after me. That's about all."

"Now I know what 'trouble' the cards meant and who had to cut the deck," remarked the gambler.

They took to an old lodge-pole trail and followed it to Pleasant valley. Beside a spring the men halted and produced bread, bread and coffee. The gambler started to cook the breakfast.

She insisted on attending to the cooking.

but the girl insisted on taking charge of the coffee pot and frying pan, and gravely informed him:

"It's for the woman to get the meals."

San Juan stepped back and stared uncomprehendingly at Dinah. Like an old housewife, weighted with responsibility, she then fried the bacon and fried the coffee, then fried the bread in the butter fat. She had been used to hard work. After they had eaten and while she was washing the dishes at the spring San Juan murmured:

"What's to be done with her?" Dinah frowned and rubbed his jaw, then gave it up.

"Time enough to decide that when we get to Deadwood," he said. "Kitty will take care of her, mused the gambler."

"Kitty" repeated Dinah. "Friend of mine. Good friend, too, but it's not to stick here any longer. We're too near the canyon. The Indians may be making round these parts. We must be going."

They followed the road toward Ouse and frequently passed old prospect holes dug the year before, and not a few deserted cabins. At midday they rounded a low hill and came in sight of the town, the first to be laid out in the Black Hills and how an excellent example of a "best" town. In 1875, when white men were taboo in the hills, it had been a magic town, with a main street half a mile long and crowded with business houses and respectable resorts. Now its merchants and gamblers and its painted women were hunting their profits in Deadwood City. There were some hundred and fifty inhabitants, mostly men, in the town, with row after row of dwellings left to the ravages of squirrels and kindred mischievous workers.

San Juan took his companions to a hotel, where the girl was given a room while the men ordered dinner. When she returned they noticed approval. Although her pale face and thin features made her look all eyes, there was no ignoring her neatly brushed hair, this as you said. She glanced shyly at them and said:

"I ain't thanked you for what you've done for me."

"Never mention it," said San Juan, bowing gallantly. "How well eat."

He ushered them into the dining room, pulled out a chair for Little Carl and seated her with quite the grand manner.

The fire was brilliant, and Little Carl found that the tragedy had not killed her appetite. They had finished and the gambler was cutting the end from a cigar when a man rushed into the room and shouted:

"San Juan and his party are here!"

"Wild Bill's been shot! Done — death from behind by that dirty snake Deadwood City ain't stretched his nettleable woman before now it oughter be bulleted faster than this town even is."

"But Wild Bill Haskett? Some one got the drop on Wild Bill?" incredulously snapped Dinah.

"Got the drop, h—ll!" howled the newsboy. "McCall took grubstake from him. Made off to be evadingly obliged to him. Then stood behind him while Bill was playing a few cards and shot him through the back of the head. S'pose that stunk would 'a' dared make a move if Wild Bill had had half a eye on him? As at that Bill had a gun pulled over at the holster as 'a' coughed when they picked him up from the table where he fell, face down."

San Juan sorrowfully lamented. "Wild Bill was white. Too bad. Too bad."

They left the dining room, and found that the hotel and town was alive with the news. From the hotel proprietor San Juan bought a roll of blankets for the girl and some cooked food, and hired a horse.

When they struck out on the corduroy road that led to Deadwood City San Juan was keen to make fast time; but the girl, wearied by her terrible experiences and unused to horseback riding, made him pause at the possibility. Dinah detected his companion's impatience and suggested that he ride on ahead, adding:

"I'll fetch Little Carl along."

"No; I'll stick along with you two. There's probably some excitement to come over Wild Bill's death, and I'd like to be there."

The travelers passed through fair valleys, richly grassed, that would have delighted the heart of the gambler. According to Dinah's handman, according to Spring creek thirty-one miles in traveling a dozen miles. They made their camp on the head waters of this stream, and built a lean-to, or half-faced camp, for the girl. She insisted on attending to the cooking.

Early in the morning, while the valley was still swathed in white fog, they were up and riding and soon on their way. A short ride brought them to Hill City, which interested Dinah. There were two hundred log houses, many of them uncompleted, and not a solitary inhabitant.

Deadwood City again was the answer for this homeless abandonment. Once the citizens heard of the poor man's diggings in the northern gulch they had stampeded as one.

That noon they rode into Rapid City on the creek of the same name. This town and its immediate environs were bustling with mining activities, the first the travelers had witnessed since leaving Red canyon.

It was at Rapid City that the gambler and Dinah learned how McCall, slayer of Wild Bill, had been arranged the night before by a so-called "citizens" or "miners" committee, had been acquitted and furnished with a good horse and allowed to try his luck in escaping from the hills. And there were those who had watched the stage road ever since the word was received, hoping that the murderer would ride within range of their rifles.

"Let him go, eh?" mused San Juan. "What's too bad! Wonder what's behind it?"

"Looks as if he might be able to tell things that some one doesn't want told," commented Dinah savagely.

Fourteen miles were covered before San Juan selected the next camping place, a realistic spot in Spring valley. The night passed quietly, and another ride into the fog was commenced. A few miles out they overtook a man leading a diminutive but by no means all but concealed horse. The animal was all but concealed by a blanket, tent and blankets. Lashed on top of the load was a Henry rifle, forerunner of the Winchester. Juan waved his hand and saluted:

"How now, 'Pyrites'?" Another rich striker?

"The man halted and blinked up at them, revealing a weather-worn face that was traversed by a network of tiny wrinkles. From the corner of his mouth San Juan informed Dinah:

"Old Iron 'Pyrites', best sample of perpetual prospector you ever saw. He's got millions in a sure thing to pan out new gravel. I grubstake him."

"Howdy, Joey?" joyously cried Pyrites, now finding his tongue. "Ain't struck anything but rich prospects this trip, but I'll uncover the real article on the next. Found some mighty rich indications. Who's your friends?"

The gambler made Little Carl and Dinah known, and briefly told of the massacre in the canyon. Pyrites stared sympathetically at the girl. "Too bad, you know," he said. "But this is a mighty fine country to forget things in. You've heard about Bill, Joey?"

San Juan nodded gloomily, then exclaimed in deep disgust:

"Ain't to think of letting that McCall go free!"

This was news to Pyrites, for he fairly yelled:

"Go free? Why, Joey, they just couldn't. They had to hang him! You can't mean that they didn't hang him on the spot!"

The gambler repeated what had been told him at Rapid City. Once Pyrites was convinced that the murderer's innocence already had been proclaimed by a mob tribunal he swore vehemently. The girl showed alarm, and Dinah signaled for a change of the conversation.

Pyrites was not ready to return to Deadwood.

"I want to go a bit along here," he explained. "Two or three likely looking spots I want to look at. But I'll be in town as soon as you are, I reckon."

Progress was slow, little better than a walk, because of Little Carl and slight found them a good ride from Deadwood City. San Juan Joe, however, accepted the delay philosophically. The nervous haste to get back to the gulch, so obvious in the morning, was entirely lacking, and he entered upon the work of preparing their last camp with the zest of a schoolboy released for the holidays.
